Each year, people miss out on billions of pounds of new income that they are entitled to but unaware of. It includes benefits, grants, and help for household bills and debts.

Our advisors guide people through the income maximisation journey. Since 2009, we've helped secure £30 million in new income. And the best thing? Our service is free and confidential.

Now, we're launching a brand new service to help people bounce back from financial uncertainty. It could raise an extra £140 to pay off your energy bill. It's not uncommon for us find people £16,000 – £25,000 extra annual income.

Signing up takes just two minutes and gets you our exclusive Bounce Back Checklist to maximising your income, packed full of links to extra tools, resources and information to help you level up your finances.

For those who are particularly in need, we'll be providing free, confidential advice over email, telephone, or IncomeMax Messenger, our new online messaging service that's coming soon.
